A DIFFERENT KIND OF LIFE INSURER

Fraternal benefit societies are 501(C)8 not-for-profit financial services and community service organizations – a different kind of life insurer. A century ago, immigrants came to America and worked back breaking jobs to build this country. When a breadwinner was injured or died, members of the local ethnic or religious community would "pass the hat" to support the family. In addition to financial security, these early fraternalists preserved their common bonds – religious, ethnic, language, gender, occupation – these unifying bonds have protected and connected members for generations.

A COMMITMENT TO COMMUNITY

Modern fraternal insurers are active in all 50 states – while our roots are historic and may sound quaint, today's fraternalists are passionate about providing financial protection and serving their communities through local volunteerism and philanthropy. From taking action during the pandemic, to supporting home-grown businesses and helping neighbors in need, fraternalists are powering American communities one member at a time. Fraternal members don't just buy a product, they invest in their hometowns.

In 2021, over

members devoted more than

39 MILLION

service hours and gave more than

to community organizations in the United States.
