

POSITION POSTING

ECONOMIC ANALYST

The House Fiscal Agency (HFA) is a nonpartisan agency within the Michigan House of Representatives. Agency personnel provide confidential, nonpartisan expertise to House Appropriations Committee members and all other members of the House on all legislative fiscal matters.

Position Description: The HFA Economic Analyst position is responsible for writing summaries and fiscal impact statements for tax policy proposals and other legislation affecting state revenues, for use by House members and staff during legislative deliberations. This position is also responsible for analyzing local government financial issues, including state revenue sharing programs. The HFA Economics Unit, led by the agency's Senior Economist, also produces detailed and timely economic and revenue forecasts utilized in the state's biannual Consensus Revenue Estimating Conference; monitors state and national economies for state revenue implications; researches and analyzes economic and fiscal issues at the request of Representatives; prepares reports and documents to assist legislative deliberations; and presents forecasts and findings to legislative committees and other interested groups.

Salary: Commensurate with experience. Entry level salary begins at $47,000.

Minimum Qualifications: Requires a degree in economics or a closely related field of study. Master's degree preferred. Must have strong quantitative skills, qualitative research skills, the ability to effectively communicate public policy issues verbally and in writing, proficiency in developing and using spreadsheet and database applications, and the ability to work effectively with legislators, legislative staff, and governmental and private sector executives. Practical experience with economic analysis and forecasting methods and a working knowledge of statistical methods are desirable.

Governing Caucus: NONPARTISAN

The position posting will remain open until filled.
