MRI & the MI NG have spent the last two years developing a plan to provide new missions to MI NG assets throughout the state, leveraging M unique assets to fill an emerging training gap recognized by the DoD and our partner nations across the world. Mi's NG bases with relatively small investment can be the first to provide these capabilities training logisticians throughout the military and allies on next generation technologies MI NG facilities resident at Camp Grayling, Selfridge ANGB and other MI bases. This will also establish a military mobile hospital capability at Selfridge ANGB for which the MI NG and its medical units will provide logistics capability to disaster areas within the US and around the world. The public benefit of this project will result in new revenues for the MI NG and surrounding communities supporting the needs of visiting troops from other state NG units as well as partner nations from NATO allies, Canada, New Zealand and Australia which are currently being planned. Training activities such as Northern Strike will become year-round activities greatly expanding the number of participants to take advantage of 4 seasons training across Mi's land, sea and air military operation areas.

This initiative does not violate Article IV, Section 30 of the Michigan Constitution because it serves a clear public purpose by enhancing the capabilities of the Michigan National Guard in national defense, disaster response, and international military training. Funds are directed toward public facilities and used to support public missions, not private entities. Any economic benefit to local communities is incidental and does not convert the project into a private appropriation.
