GOAL Line Detroit provides quality after school enrichment programming from 3 PM-6 PM Monday-Friday at multiple sites throughout Detroit, Michigan, which include the Northwest Activities Center, Detroit Academy of Arts and Sciences, Engaged Detroit Community Center, Hubbard Library, Sherwood Library, Edison Library, Parkman Library, Heilmann Recreation Center, and Patton Recreation Center. The program serves currently over 600 K-8 students and there are over 300 students on the waitlist. This is made possible through a unique partnership with city public and charter schools, as well as transportation and community vendors. GOAL Line also addresses key barriers to program access, including cost and transportation. The program is free to families. GOAL Line buses pick students up from participating schools and transport them to designated program sites. GOAL Line mirrors the best practices of other accomplished after school programs across the country with a proven track record of success and has served over 600 students since its inception. According to survey data in February 2025, 95% of schools and 85% of parents report that they are highly satisfied with the program.

Public Benefit/Appropriate Use of Taxpayer Funding

- GOAL Line contributes to the long-term educational outcomes of students
- GOAL Line provides a pathway to higher education/skill training (workforce development for high school students)
- GOAL Line provides a safe place for students outside of school hours (i.e., reduces students' participation in risky behaviors)
- GOAL Line, as a free program for parents, allows parents to extend their work hours, which increases workforce access and economic mobility
