Calhoun County Government and the City of Marshall are partnering on an innovative infrastructure project to co-locate the Calhoun County Road Department and the City of Marshall Department of Public Works into a shared, modern facility. Both entities have long outgrown the usefulness of their current facilities, which lacks modern safety and efficiency. This new facility will provide a more safe and functional workspace that can accommodate necessary equipment and vehicles. By introducing a new shared facility, shared amenities will streamline operations and maximize the value of taxpayer dollars. With additional development and a higher demand for services in Calhoun County following Ford's BlueOval Battery Plant, this project ensures both local and county governments are well equipped to meet the challenge.

This does not violate Article 4 Section 30 of the Michigan Constitution because this is going to the county for local usage.
